KUALA LUMPUR, Sept 21 (Bernama) -- Communication among people is seen as the best medium to form the organisation of the administration and congregation of the Selangor International Islamic University College (KUIS) Al-Azhar Mosque.

Therefore, KUIS Al-Azhar Mosque will use public relations approach via communication with the administration personnel and congregation, comprising KUIS students to build a good relationship between the mosque and its congregation.

"Through public relations, all information can be communicated and understood to build a good image of KUIS management," said KUIS in a statement.

KUIS said the communication approach proved that the combination of knowledge and experience was especially important in making sure the management of the mosque was running smoothly.
