KUALA LUMPUR, Sept 21 (Bernama) -- Sijil Pelajaran Malaysia (SPM) school leavers who have not achieved excellent results have the opportunity to pursue higher education at the Selangor International Islamic University College (KUIS).

KUIS, in a statement, today said that with only three credits and a pass in English and Mathematics, they can still continue their studies in various areas of interest at the college.

In the meantime, KUIS recently held an introduction and promotion session at 10 National Service Training Programme camp locations.

The sessions were held in conjunction with the Education and Career Carnival aimed at guiding PLKN participants who are also SPM school leavers by providing information on learning opportunities at KUIS doing foundation studies and diplomas with minimum entry requirements.
